

Illinois' sixth annual indoor relay carnival is the next event of importance on the Illini schedule. This meet has grown to be the indoor classic of the country, and the entry list makes certain that several records will be replaced by better ones. Phi Kappa will be well represented in the meet with Brother Sweeney in the broad jump, Brother Evans in the short dashes, and Postulant Koonz in the 440-yard events. Brother Meals may also get a chance to throw the cinders in the distance runs.

Championship hopes for the basketball team have been thrown into the discard, and Coach Ruby's men are fighting hard to make sure of a fourth place berth in the final Big Ten standings. Brother Popken is again performing at the floor guard post and has constantly been a stumbling block for those who are seeking high scoring honors.

Burnham Hospital has had more than its quota of visitors from Phi Kappa this semester. Brothers Nuessle, Moulton and Raney have been forced to submit to operations. Moulton and Raney are again up and around the House, but Nuessle is still confined to his bed.

Phi Kappa has recently pledged three more good men. These men help to fill up the vacancies left by Brother Nuessle's graduation and the withdrawal from school of Brothers Everett, Price and Runyon.

Indoor baseball practice has started and Coach Lundgren sees hopes for his seventh consecutive Big Ten title. Brother Isch and Postulant Corley are trying for places on the freshman-varsity squad.

Brothers Walbert, as general manager, and Austin, as stage manager,
