

On February 27 the house was invaded by Alley Oop and his species. The occasion was our annual 'Cave-Man Drag.' Our living room became a prehistoric cave which was entered by crawling through the basement. Everyone had an enjoyable "old" time. Our second major dance of the spring semester, the Spring Formal, is scheduled for May 21.

As usual, the Crows of Phi Kappa are entering all types of activities and sports this spring. Next on our "to do" list is to keep "the Keg." It is the traveling trophy given to the winner of the annual softball game played with Alpha Phi of Purdue. There's a nasty rumor circulating that the Alpha Phis are expecting to re-capture "the Keg." Dreamers!!

To prepare for the mighty boilermakers of Alpha Phi, the Illini Crows are practicing in a formidable league—Co-Rec softball. In order that we may be doubly prepared, we have entered two teams, one with Theta Upsilon and the other with Delta Zeta.

Phi Kappa has also entered the Grand Prix Bike Race. Every Crow athletic supporter will be giving his all, especially in the one-mile stretch. This 88 mile race is scheduled for May 14.

Being the fraternity capital of the world, the University of Illinois has proclaimed May 1-8 Greek Week. On May 4 all of the fraternities and sororities will hold a massive exchange. Phi Kappa has also entered the chariot races and will hold Open House on May 8.

The Crows of Phi Kappa wish all of the Chapters a successful semester in grades, activities, and amour.
