

the game. Phi Pi certainly did everything possible for us to have a good time. And from the rings under our eyes as we went to our Monday eight o'clocks their efforts were not in vain. From the minute we arrived in Columbus the Phi Pi boys took us in tow and offered us every form of entertainment the town afforded. On Saturday night there was a house dance at the "Barn" four miles out of town. Most of us had dates with Ohio girls, and we all had a big time. What might have happened Sunday morning I do not know because I, with quite a few others, overslept.

Next year when the Ohio boys come over here we hope that they will see an Alpha Chi Rho out there on the field. Our hopes are strong since Postulant Johnson has received his numerals for his work on the freshman squad.

Postulants Morgan, Green, and Gerber were initiated on December 7.

This year Brother Wharfield, with the help of Brother Ireland, has been publishing monthly the Phi Kappa News. This is a three-column illustrated newspaper containing from four to eight pages. It is mailed free of charge to all the graduate Brothers of Phi Kappa and carries to them the news of the resident Chapter along with news of the members of their own class. From the responses of our alumni we know that it is a publication greatly appreciated.

Since Christmas there have been many house improvements. One of them is the new pool room. Since we hold all our formal councils in the parlors, the old Chapter Hall has been vacant. This has been made into a pool room. The pool table was removed from the south little dorm and that room reconverted into a small dorm for those few Brothers who object too strenuously to the "fresh air fiends" in the main dorm. New, and more appropriate, lights have been put into the new pool room and the table repaired to the extent of $160.

Some of the study rooms and halls have been replastered. Between semesters all of the study rooms will be redecorated. Additional space for quiet study has been provided by the furnishing of the two rooms in the basement, known as the "Better 'Ole." Right now, while we are in the midst of exams, we certainly appreciate them and are putting them to good use.

Brother Sholis, who is one of the junior editors on the Illini, was initiated into Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity. He is also a member of Kappa Tau Alpha, the "Phi Bete" of the School of Journalism. Brother Wharfield is a member of Sigma Delta Chi.

Brother "Buzz" Marshall was recently initiated into Daubers, honorary and professional fraternity for artists. "Buzz" is in the architecture school.
