

men during rush week. Every Brother put forth his best to get the House in fine shape and I think the fellows made their usual good impression. At least sixteen men thought so and now are living in the Chapter House.

They are: Richard Barnett, Richard Bristol, Robert Critton, Robert Hannon, Wilbur Garbe, Bruce Kipp, John Hanson, Darwin Lierman, Theodore Morris, Peter Noling, Edward Oja, Ralph Ruthenberg, Alden Schneider, Charles Wade, George Waggoner and James Young.

In honor of the new Postulants Phi Kappa held its annual pledge dance Saturday, October 16. The House was decorated in true autumnal fashion with corn shocks in the corners, pumpkins logically near them and ears of corn hanging in convenient places. Music was furnished by Red Maxfield and his campus band. To lend to the atmosphere almost everyone tried his hand at the Big Apple during the course of the evening.

October 30 was Homecoming at Illinois and, although Illinois' football team didn't "come through," it was far from being a dull week-end. All fraternity and sorority houses were decorated, the twenty-fifth anniversary of Bob Zuppke's career as head football coach being the theme in most cases. Alpha Chi Rho's decorations were based on a replica of an old mill, with water wheel and all, with the figure of a football player labelled "Michigan" ready to "go through the mill." It was a good idea even if it didn't win the first-prize loving cup!

Phi Kappa was proud to report to its alumni at the annual dinner that the House stood sixth among sixty fraternities in scholarship. Everyone in the House is doing his best to hold that place and improve it if possible.

Due to late pledging last year four Postulants were not initiated until November 15 this fall. The new Brothers accepted and initiated are: Theodore Morris, Darwin Lierman, George Waggoner and Richard Barnett. Incidentally, George, who is a sophomore, was elected to Phi Eta Sigma, national scholastic honor society, this fall.

As this is written everything points to a successful year for Alpha Chi Rho at Illinois. Dad's Day on November 20 drew many visitors and Chapter members seemed glad to entertain their dads, even though they made the annual Thanksgiving pilgrimage home just three days later.

The Brothers of Phi Kappa send their best regards to the Fraternity.

CHARLES NORTON.
