

Phi Kappa

University of Illinois

⌘ HERE ON the Illinois campus, the fraternities have been trying an experiment which is new here, at least. At two-week intervals the fraternities have exchange dinners among themselves. It is an excellent opportunity to become acquainted with neighbors which, in some cases, have been traditional rivals, but who turn out to be regular fellows once you get to know them.

We have been endeavoring here at Phi Kappa to get in touch with good, eligible men who might be interested in joining a fraternity. Through the efforts of our rushing chairman, Howie Norris, who was promoted from assistant chairman, we have entertained several good men. Prospects of getting several good pledges before the end of the semester seem good, and we started out by pledging Al Peterson '40 last December 12.

The social activities of our chapter have been confined to occasional exchange dinners with sororities, and a radio dance which was held December 11. A good variety of music aided everyone to enjoy himself, and punch (and only punch) was the liquid refreshment for the evening.

Since this is the season, Phi Kappa joins me in extending to the other chapters the best of luck and continued success for the coming new year.
