

Phi Kappa

University of Illinois

⌘ AFTER THE HAZE OF semester exams had cleared away, Phi Kappa was fortunate to have stood its ground with no losses due to scholastic difficulties. The house average for the first semester was 3.34, and this should rate us high in the first ten of the sixty-three fraternities on the Illinois campus. Intramural basketball began soon after the second semester, and the season will last for some time after the varsity season ends.

Sunday morning, February 20, we initiated five postulants of the class of '41: Robert Critton, Aurora; John Hanson, Evanston; Peter Noling, Rockford; Ralph Ruthenberg, Riverside; and Alden Schneider, Chicago. A formal dinner for all the Brothers followed the initiation.

Our third annual Bum Arts Ball was held the last week-end in February and the theme of the evening was the Robber's dance. The fellows and their dates wore appropriate costumes and cider and doughnuts served as refreshments.

This last week Phi Kappa was paid visits by Al Espenship and Carleton Dilatush, who were on the Rutgers debate team, and by five members of the
