CHAPTER CORRESPONDENT

⚔ AT THE time of this writing all is well at Phi Kappa. Nobody has been called for defense duty and everyone is expecting to be in school at least until June. Study conditions haven't been too good, but yet we are expecting to be high in the scholarship ranking. Things have quieted down considerably and all the fellows are burying their heads in the books.

The winter social season was a real success. We started it off with several fellows attending the Interfraternity Dance which was a complete success this year. Soon after we held our Winter Formal at the Chapter House. Really smooth dance music was furnished by Johnny Coombs. Several boys made use of the mistletoe, including yours truly. Following the dance we had a really fine serenade.

While on the subject of singing, I might add that we have a harmonious choral group. In fact, we feel that we are now, or soon will be, good enough to make a recording. We are going to sing Alpha Chi Rho songs so maybe some of you
