

Phi Kappa Basketball Champs: Front, Sid Skidmore, Bob Scott, Don Miller; back, Herb Franson, Ed Wright, Jim Dickson, and Phil Trimble

came back along with the boys of '49. After the game we had a big Saturday night party. Somehow the lights went out mysteriously, but the volume of "Bring Out That Old Silver Goblet" was only increased and more songs and glasses were raised in the candlelight.

A fast and rough-house basketball team that came through a long and difficult schedule with all of the honors. Sid Skidmore, Bob Scott, Don Miller, Herb Franson, Ed Wright, Jim Dickson, and Phil Trimble went through some terrific action on the courts through most of the semester. In the wide open recreational tournament they were second only to a team that was composed of some of the best talent in several houses. (Recreational teams do not limit their players to one house.) Nearby is a shot of the team after winning the Armory Street tournament and shutting out such powerful houses as Delta Chi, Lambda Chi Alpha, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Theta Xi, Delta Upsilon, and Sigma Phi Epsilon. The trophy shown does add a little color to the living room and balance to the top of the piano.

And speaking of sports, we hear that Rex Thompson of Brunswick, Ga., and the class of '20 has been making a racket out of tennis. Rex (who, just as a point of interest, is turning 55) and a partner won the veterans' double playoffs in Tampa, Fla., hands down and then went on to be the runners-up in the national veterans' finals in Orlando, Fla. There is a gentle hint to some of the Brothers who may have retired to the rocking chair.

Now here is the very latest of the many house improvements that we have been making this semester. Gertrude has a new stove to cook on. The old one was so wide that she had difficulty
