

It was one of the best dances we have had at the house in the past few years. Many new and interesting costumes, some typical and some most atypical of the caveman period, were worn by the Brothers, et al.

As I'm sure you have been reading, Illinois advanced quite well in the NCAA tournament. Illinois beat Bowling Green of Ohio, 70-67, to advance in the standings; however, they lost to Loyola of Chicago, 79-64. Loyola has been ranked second in the nation, whereas Illinois was ranked third at the beginning of the season. Illinois, in their last game of the Big Ten season, came from behind to beat Iowa, thus tying with Indiana for the championship. This is the first time in this decade that Illinois has managed to advance so far in the Big Ten race. Next year's team will consist mainly of juniors, all of whom had good experience this year.

That's all for the news from Illinois; hope to report next time of all the "adventures" of the Brothers during spring vacation.
