

PHI KAPPA

University of Illinois

‡ THE MEN of Phi Kappa returned this fall to find a House which had gotten completely out of hand over the long summer. The grass had grown above the roof and the ivy which had been so welcome last spring had the run of the House. However, after a few days of spirited cutting, things were brought under some control.

Everyone brought back a favorite story of the good old summer time. None of these topped the move of Brother Dale Schunk '68. It was Brother Schunk who laughed with such glee last spring as Brother Lloyd Marquardt '68 wandered down the rose-covered path of love. Last May it was none other than Dale who joined Lloyd in that love nest in the sky. It was Miss Connie Collins who lured Dale into taking that great step. She now wears a second pin, that of AXP.

As for Brother Marquardt, as the old saying goes "a funny thing happened . . ." Any way, one bright morning his pin suddenly appeared bright and shiny on his shirt. There was no explanation for this strange development but, as you well know, no one knew her anyway.

No sooner had Brother Marquardt joined the rest of us than we had another Brother bite the dust. It was a quiet evening when Brother Don Broman '68 stormed in looking somewhat relieved and excited. At first we thought he had found some money or something, but as it turned out he had given his pin to Miss Pam Anderson. Good show Pam!

The greatest blow was dealt to Brother Joe Hayek '67. He went out one day to get fitted for a new suit and came back wearing a bright, shiny gold ring in his nose. Miss Eleanor Scheinor seems to have Joe well under control. Alas poor Joe, I knew him well.

A special nod of appreciation to Brothers Elliott Knettle and Douglas Way of Phi Omicron for the kind note of thanks. They visited Champaign early June and thanks to the efforts of our Chapter Advisor Herm "thanks for the memories" Linder was given a police-escorted tour of campus Champaign, and the city building. That's O.K. guys, our pleasure. Glad you enjoyed it.

The entire House sighed with relief with the return late this week of "the conch." This legendary figure has in the past few weeks achieved campus-wide fame and has served as an untiring source of inspiration and strength for the House for a long time. Welcome back baby!
