

fensive line of Jim "Carrot" Graham '68, John Stahl '69 and Chuck Hulick '65, was just too much for Gary "The Galloping Polock" Tomaszewski '70 and Teddy-Bear Dost '70, the offensive line for the Pledges.

Now that the basketball season is here, we think the Crows will come out on top in all the games. With stars as Joe Hayek, John Meyer, Phil O'Bryan, Darrel Pepple '68, Kent Yauch '68, and Don Broman '68, we can't go wrong.

Due to our recent pairing in the annual Stunt Show held over Homecoming weekend, Ron Singleton, Kent Yauch, both '68, and Bruce Carlton '69, were furnished with many wonderful dates. The problem is, only Kent is still dating the same girl. It seems Ron's girl fell for a football hero, and Bruce's girl—well, that story is too involved to be printed here so I'll let it pass.

The Pledge Dance—"To Hell with It"—presented a chance for the guys to show off their fast-dancing ability. The Winter Formal was quite a change in that it gave everyone a chance to brush up on his slow movements. I haven't danced slow in such a long time that every time I moved, it seems I stepped on my date's feet. I'll bet she won't forget that night.

Congratulations to Alpha Phi on their Rose Bowl trip. It's a shame we couldn't have beaten you, Fellahs, but we'll get you next year.
