

University of Illinois Celebrates Centennial Year

*From Public Information Office
University of Illinois*

MILES AND MILES OF BICYCLE PATHS cross the campus. But parking a bike is almost as difficult as parking a car on the campus. Thirty-thousand students attend the University of Illinois' Urbana-Champaign campus. About 10,000 others attend the new Chicago Circle campus and the Medical Center campus in Chicago. The University started teaching in March, 1868, with 50 students and three professors.