

April 1950

"It's such a lovely spring night, let's all go for a nice walk — down to the library to bone up for the coming exams!"

March 1951

"To make this a little more interesting, let 'x' equal a permanent deferment."

December 1950

"Mistletoe? Oh, yes, Phoradendron Flavescens — say, did I tell you my botany prof is an Alpha Chi Rho, too?"

June 1951

"Well, I couldn't see hiring a sitter so I could watch you cut yourself off the government payroll!"