

Summer 1964

"Put the hula hoops and the beach ball back in the attic—I am well aware of what's doing in the big city!"

Winter 1965

"Notice how much smarter the profs are getting than when we were freshmen?"

Fall 1964

"Nineteen hours this semester — but only twelve of them count for graduation — they don't give credits for demonstrations!"

Spring 1965

"But suppose a phone call doesn't cheer him up — what's going to cheer you up?"
