♣ THE big news here at the University of Illinois is our victory in the Rose Bowl. Many people predicted Illinois a Big Ten victor early in the season, although the title was not cinched until the Fighting Illini defeated Michigan State on Thanksgiving Day. A few lucky members of the house traveled out to the West Coast to see the game, and Postulant Roger Puta flew out to Pasadena to perform in the Rose Parade, and during the game as a member of the Marching Illini Football Band. Everyone else was glued to his television set on New Year's Day. Then came a big celebration for our victory over Washington!
