

PHI KAPPA

University of Illinois

♣ The Brothers of Phi Kappa just came back from a well-deserved semester break. Semester exams kept many Brothers and Pledges up to all hours of the morning. But the Pledges saw more work as initiation came closer. Each Pledge worked twenty-four hours repairing and improving the Crow House. Then, on February 7, fifteen men were initiated into Phi Kappa.

They are, in order of initiation: Joseph Van Wassenhove, Gordon Fujimoto, Thomas Samland, Bruce Lindemann, Keith Klontz, Rick Schomisch, Timothy Coarson, Thomas Brown, Walter Mecozzi, Gerald Gentes, Guy Agostino, Gerald Cann, Larry Christensen, Fred Sturmer, and Richard Slowikowski.

The Brothers would like to commend the Alpha Phi Pledges on their recent visit to Phi Kappa. We were proud to be your host for your Pledge class walkout. We hope you learned something from it; I know my Pledge class learned something from ours.

So far, three men have pledged for second semester. They are Jim Hayes, Bob Schmisser, and Mike White. Good luck to these men during their pledgeship.

Speaking of rush, we are working our fool heads off for Spring Formal Rush. Phi Kappa is hoping for a pledge class the size of last year's class (21).

In a hotly-debated contest for President, Phi Kappa chose their officers. "Congratulations and good luck" go to Dave Bauer and the new Executive Board. It's going to be a trying semester.

Within the next two weeks, the first round of hourlies will come up. So you can see that we are well into the second semester of school. It's time to study and get serious. Semester break is over. (Darn it!)

Our House was in the championship game of Orange Division, IM volleyball. We had to settle for second place because we lost our final game. But it was a great effort by the team and the Crow fans.

At present, plans are being made for a spring formal and the annual Purdue picnic. I hope the Alpha Phi's have been practicing.
