

steward, has added to his curriculum "Headache 101," which is better known as "Heartburn for forty Crows." Anyway we are surviving with plenty of pot pies.

Little Sister Rush this year was quite successful, with the pledging of 24 dazzling dames. Sports, however, have taken a turn for the worse. The football teams, like the Fighting Illini, have turned to a losing streak. But our teams in Co-Rec water basketball, bowling, soccer and volleyball are faring somewhat better.

We are anticipating a very active social schedule this fall. Having just finished Dad's Day and competing in the Greek Olympics here on campus we are awaiting to share the Illini-Purdue game with our Brothers at Alpha Phi. Also coming up are Homecoming and Pledge Dance, which are always unsurpassed.

We here at Phi Kappa wish all of you a great semester, and keep the Crow flying. ♣
