

our social and/or athletic schedules to make the grade improvements. We proved ourselves able to strike a good balance between scholastic and extra-curricular activities.

This balance has carried through to this year, which includes our pledge class of '84. We are expecting to improve even more this term because of greater efforts by academic advisors to help pledges become familiar with the best study methods and techniques. ♣