

Phi Kappa welcomes industrious pledge class into the Brotherhood

By Jeff Klein
Phi Kappa

ϕ The Phi Kappa Chapter welcomes its new pledge class of '84: John Haley, pledge class President; Kevin Anetsberger, Vice-President; Rick Muff; Bill Beyers; Glenn Smith; Brian Hrabak; and Kevin McDonald. With mighty Crow determination, these men push forward to their Initiation day.

On the morning of Sept. 5, the Crows of '84 awoke at 5:30, layered the front yard with toilet paper, and set off on a walkout for Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. The pledges and Brothers who attended the expedition found the waterskiing, partying, and camping very interesting, to say the least.

The Playboy Club would not comment on the group's visit. Brothers Paul Weston, Ed Roland, and Jeff Klein led the wild bunch. When the pledges reluctantly returned, they found the Brotherhood only slightly angry about the cellophane-covered toilet seats.

Raising Money

On a different note, the pledge class has diligently been raising money for special projects. A "Sweetest Day" steak dinner was held at the House Oct. 19 and was an outstanding success. So far $125 has been raised, and many more projects are underway. These include raffles, all-campus movies, and a Casino Night during Homecoming weekend.

It is our hope that these projects will provide a basis of ideas for our future Phi Kappa pledge classes, as well as for those of our fellow chapters.

The exciting 1980 Pledge Dance was held Nov. 15 at the House, or should we say "On the Nile," as the pledges called it Alpha "Cairo-A Night on The Nile."

Oct. 20 marked the beginning of "Inspiration Week" for New Initiates John Haley, Rick Muff, and Kevin Anetsberger. The week proved educational to all, as those then eager neophytes each delivered a speech on an important person or event in Phi Kappa's history. These, along with a talk with the officers and daily ritual, provided a learning atmosphere for the three.

We were proud to welcome our newly Initiated Brothers on Oct. 25. We feel these men will carry on the Crow tradition here at Illinois. Congratulations, men!

Finally, we would like to extend our heartiest welcome to a fine group of '84.5's. Dan Layzell, Bob Cook, Greg Remic, Jim Jascoviak, and Joe Hanson belong to this exclusive class. They seem so far to be a very promising bunch of guys and have already contributed significantly to our fund-raising projects. ϕ
