

Phi Kappa Brothers host festive parties

By Jim Camel
Phi Kappa

Phi Kappa Crows kicked off the new exciting spring semester with our traditional Basement Party. The Crow "moles" outdid themselves by inviting enough sororities and dorm friends to keep the Brothers entertained all night.

We maintained a busy social calendar this semester by doing something we have never done before. We went around to various sorority houses and put on a production called "Under-Crow." "Speed of lightning, sound of thunder....Under-Crow!!" Quite an experience indeed!

Our social program also included plenty of exchanges and parties. Since the basement party was so successful, the 2nd floor tried for the first time to show the House what great-looking friends they knew by having an all-House party. (They haven't stopped smiling since.)

Hat Exchange

Our hats went off to Sigma Kappa when they came over to our Happy Hour Hat Exchange. Nicknames were placed in hats and exchanged between the Houses. Persons like "Hump" had the whole evening to find "Boo Boo."

Our Little Sisters gave us their hearts at our Valentine party. Cupid was really shooting arrows that night as everyone showed the Little Sisters how much we appreciate them.

Many Brothers found dates for our Caveman Dance two days before our Tri-Sigma Circus Exchange. Different prizes were available at each attraction, and both winners and losers alike drank down their awards.

Caveman Dance

Having only a day and a half to turn the Crow House into a Cave, the pledges and Brothers worked late producing the best Caveman Dance ever. Crows and their dates each shared 1-½ yards of prehistoric looking material for costumes and acted like true Crow-Magnon people at the Caveman Feast. Everyone danced all night to the "Cavemen dressed" band.

Spring Break is right around the corner, with most of us heading toward blue skies and the warm beaches of Florida. We will relax in order to get ready for the exciting exchanges planned for the second half of the semester.

Next semester's exchanges include a Phi Sigma Sigma April Fool's Exchange, an Alpha Omicron Pi treasure hunt pirate exchange, and a Phi Mu surprise party. Squeezed in between them all will be our Sweetheart Formal, where we will travel to the center of Illinois to Peoria for this affair. Also planned are a Mom's Day Party and Dinner exchanges.

Yes, this Spring Semester promises to be as exciting as it sounds at Phi Kappa. ϕ