

Being in charge of all incoming funds, I designed the program to take care of billing the Brothers and keeping track of all types of income for one year. The program has such features as tracing an individual Brother's accounts, charging interest in the unlikely event that a Brother paid his House bill late, creating tables of income type by monthly and yearly totals, and creating the monthly House bills (the biggest timesaver of them all).

The program is run on the University's CDC Cyber 174 computer. Computer time is given to students free of charge under the conditions of limited access.

Plans are already in the works to generalize the program and make it available to all the Greek Houses on campus. I am hoping for good a response and suggestions from treasurers of other Houses.

Also planned for the future is a calendar on which our officers can enter important events, to be put out on a monthly basis. After a trial of one semester, I'd like to make this program available to other Houses. ♣
