

Recently Phi Kappa hosted the University of Illinois' Interfraternal Council Presidents' Dinner. The event was attended by all 60 fraternity presidents on campus, along with interested faculty. The dinner is held three times a year, and Phi Kappa was proud to be chosen to host one this year.

The Phi Kappa men have been working hard in the way of philanthropies, first by supporting others and second by putting on their own. All the guys had a great time just prior to Christmas, winning Alpha Phi Sorority's House Decorating Contest to benefit the Heart Fund. First place and the $100 first prize probably would have eluded us if it hadn't been for the outstanding performance of Brother Dave Culp as Santa Claus. Nice work, Dave.

Our Philanthropy Chairman, Brother Dan Layzell, did a great job on our very interesting, if not weird, philanthropy, a mud-wrestling match to benefit the Champaign County Children's Home. Yes, that's right, mudwrestling. The Chicago Knockers Mudwrestling Team to be exact. The Knockers put on a dazzling display of, well let's call it athletic prowess, at one of the local watering holes. Proceeds from the event went to the Children's Home. Plenty of work was put in by all the Phi Kaps, but particularly by Dan and Brothers Dale Marquart and Jim Sperelakis. Everyone had a great time, and the guys were especially glad we could help out the kids.

The social scene here at Phi Kappa has been as lively as ever. Happy hours and exchanges have been better than ever thanks to the hard work of our Social Chairman, Brother Jim Camel. Once again Caveman Drag has been the highlight of the semester so far. It is certainly one of the unique fraternity events on campus and by far one of the most enjoyable.

Our Little Sisters continue to be one of the greatest assets to the Chapter. The Little Sister Christmas Party was a smash as usual, with the presents as wild as ever. Everything from Playboy magazines to cookies were exchanged between the Little Sisters and the Brothers. Our Little Sis Chairman, Brother Kevin Anetsberger, and the Little Sister Officers (President Betsy Lee, Vice-President Jana Fairow, and Co-Pimp Chairmen Sue Burns and Helen Karecki) continued to set up many constructive and fun events.

To help support the Little Sister program, the girls ran a cookie sale over Valentine's Day weekend. They took orders for the personalized cookies early in the week and then spent Wednesday through Friday baking and decorating the cookies at the Chapter House. On Saturday the girls delivered the cookies all around the campus. The project was a great success. Thanks for the support girls, and congratulations on a job well done.

Once again Phi Kappa would like to extend an invitation to our Alumni with whom we've lost contact to get in touch with us. Alumni Relations Chairman Brother Jeff Klein has been updating our address records, but
